Hello MetroWest Ballet Friends and Family,

I am pleased to announce that once again MetroWest Ballet will collaborate with Symphony Pro Musica on a full-length production of The Nutcracker to be presented in Hudson with very special guest artists from Boston Ballet. I write now to ask for your help in bringing this production to life.

The event will offer our patrons a wonderful destination, a quality arts event, right here in our community. Three performances will be held at Hudson High School on December 16th and 17th, and free tickets will be made available to children through Grade 12. Last year our shows were presented to sold-out audiences. Pairing our local students to learn and perform with seasoned musicians from Symphony Pro Musica and professional dancers from Boston Ballet made for an exciting and memorable event from both sides of the stage. This year promises to be just as magnificent.

The production will be presented as a part of Symphony Pro Musica's 35th Season. Symphony Pro Musica is a non-profit 501(c)(3) organization, and any support you lend to this production will be tax deductible. Your support, no matter the size, will make it possible for us to bring this great arts event to our community and create a wonderful opportunity for our local students. And it's so easy! Just use the link on the MWB website to donate online and lend your support to this production.

Thank you so much for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Jessica Wilson
Director

Can you even imagine life without all the MWB or (going back now- you alums are all getting older!) the BWNE performances and all the grit and glory? Please help make this production possible. Performing with the live orchestra has been a treat and has made the ladies feel pretty special! It's the only regional performance of the full length ballet with a live orchestra!

-Miss Jessica
